UNITED STATES' ATTITUDE CAUSES COMMENT IN JAPAN

Sinister Motives Are Denied—German Ambassador Is Preparing To Leave Tokio

By Associated Press.

Tokio, August 21.—Japan is quietly preparing for eventualities following the expiration next Sunday of her ultimatum to Germany, demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of lKau Chau. The strictest prohibition has been placed upon the publication of information concerning movements of Japanese troops. All correspondence is censored and the newspapers closely watched.

Activities at the German embassy, where personal effects are being packed for shipment are the only indication of what the answer of Germany will be. Meanwhile in spite of the most sensational reports of the treatment of Japanese in Germany, there is no evidence of anti-German feeling here. On the contrary the authorities have given notice that all Germans remaining in Japan must be treated courteously. German professors are expected to remain at their posts until they are needed for service at home.

The war and navy departments are preparing for a move on Kiau Chau where, contrary to current reports, the fortifications are really formidable. Since the outbreak of the European war thousands of Chinese coolies have been employed in strengthening these defenses. It is believed here that the taking of Kiau Chau will not be an easy task.

The Japanese newspapers and leading Japanese express surprise at the tone of the American press that attributes sinister motives to Japan in sending an ultimatum to Germany. They state that this action was taken only after weeks of conversation with Great Britain and was at the request and with the approval, of Japan's ally.

Premier Okuma and Foreign Minister Kato have made repeated and categorical denials that Japan has designs on Samoa and the Philippines or any other territory.

NO ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS SOON

WAR SITUATION MAKES CONTINUOUS SESSION SEEM LIKELY

MAY STOP TRUST LEGISLATION

Some Democratic Senators Would Postpone All Except Clayton Bill Until Later.

By Associated Press

Washington, August 21.—Efforts of Republican senators to reach an agreement with Democrats for an adjournment of congress within the next two weeks have come to a halt as administration leaders declare congress would have to remain in session during the war in Europe. It is said that inasmuch as congress will have to be ready to meet any revenue shortage caused by the war there could be no thought of adjourning.

Some democratic senators have proposed, however, that the trust legislation be concluded with the passage of the Clayton bill. They would defer the measure authorzing the interstate commerce commission to regulate security issues of common carriers, until next session.

Washington, August 21.—The senate passed today after two hours' debate the emergency war risk insurance bill carrying an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the purpose of insuring American vessels and cargoes against the hazards of war.

REGARDING THE TIME OF THE POPE'S DEATH

New York, August 20.—To Members of the Associated Press: Pope Pius X died at 1:20 o'clock, Rome time, this (Thusday) morning, as announced in last night's dispatches of the Associated Press.

There is six hours difference in time between New York and Rome, so that the hour of his death, New York time, was 7:20 p. m.

At 2:29 p. m., New York time, (8:29 p. m. Rome time,) Wednesday, or four hours and fifty-one minutes before the pontiff had actually passed away, The United Press Associations distributed throughout this country a formal announcement that the Pope was dead. As will be seen, the United Press announcement was false.

CARDINALS MAY ASK FOR TRUCE IN WAR

WOULD STOP CONFLICT UNTIL NEW POPE HAS BEEN ELECTED

PREPARATIONS FOR CONCLAVE

Indications All Point to Election of Italian—America to Play Important Part.

By Associated Press.

Rome, August 21.—Rome mourned deeply today the death of Pope Pius but the sorrow did not prevent the active furtherance of preparations for the holding of a conclave of the sacred college of cardinals or the election of a new head of the church. There was much speculation as to the probable outcome of the election but the view appeared to prevail that owing to the divided state of Europe just now, it was almost certain an Italian would be chosen, as the Italian cardinals form the strongest section of the sacred college.

As a preliminary to the meeting of cardinals, the papal secretary of state, Cardinal Merry del Val, gave up his office in accordance with custom and other officers of the Vatican did likewise.

The Pope's physician, Dr. Marchiafava declares in an interview that his patient suffered much physically and mentally through the outbreak of war in Europe. The will of the late pontiff whose executors it is expected will be Cardinals Merry del Val and Delai was written in modest languare. It is said to contain recommendations for a simple burial in the crypt of St. Peters and an appeal for small pensions for the dead pope's sisters and for one of his body servants.

Among the so-called political cardinals, headed by Cardinal Aggliardi, a movement is under, way to have the sacred college of cardinals address the emperors, kings and presidents of the countries engaged in war, asking them to declare a truce while the new pontiff is elected. This plan, as well as the proposition to attempt mediation, provides for the assistance of the United States as the greatest neutral power.

The strongest efforts are being made by the cardinals to prevent the conclave presenting a spectacle of schism on account of the conflict now waging throughout Europe. The whole sacred college numbers sixty-five cardinals so that the next pope needs forty-two votes to be elected. The Italians alone or with the five neutrals are insufficient while any attempt to join the German or Anglo-French group would cause further splits. Thus it appears likely an Italian will be chosen.

INDICTMENTS FROM FOOD PROBE LIKELY

BELIEVED BILLS WILL BE RETURNED IN SEVERAL CITIES SOON

JUGGLING OF SUGAR PRICES

California Investigation Shows That There Is No Danger of Any Shortage

By Associated Press.

Washington, August 21.—Attorney-General McReynolds expects several indictments to be returned within the next few days as a result of the investigation ordered by President Wilson on the increase of food prices since the outbreak of war in Europe.

Government officials would not say today in what cities the indictments would be sought, but it was declared no efforts would be made to localize the prosecution in any part of the country.

Mr. McReynolds has been in frequent communication with the president since the investigation started and expects to make his formal report soon. The president has directed that prosecution be pressed vigorously.

$750,000 BAGS BEET SUGAR GOES BEGGING FOR MARKET

By Associated Press.

San Francisco, August 21.—There still is one-half of this season's beet sugar output or 750,000 bags in the hands of the American Beet Sugar company awaiting a market according to a statement made before the United States grand jury by Robert Oxnarda, president of the company. United States District Attorney Preston quoted Mr. Oxnard as saying:

"This proves conclusively that the ent eastern seaboard refineries are not afraid of a shortage and that they are simply juggling with the stock they have on hand which is a three months' supply," he said, "the testimony showed also that the eastern refineries had been making no purchases of raw cane sugar.

ANTWERP MAKING PREPARATIONS TO RESIST "TO THE LAST GASP"

By Associated Press.

London, August 21.—The correspondent of The Times at the Hague, telegraphing today, says:

"The preparations for the defense of Antwerp extend over an enormous area. All classes in the city are joining in the work day and night, but there is no sign of a panic or confusion. The gates driven through the walls by a peace-loving people are closed while this work of preparation a stronge contrast, at almost every window appear English, Belgian and French flags giving a festive air to the city, which is preparing to resist to the last gasp."

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Chronicle yesterday said that Antwerp was being put in a state of defense and being provisioned for a siege. He adds that it was stated at the office of the general staff Thursday that all foreign correspondents found in Belgium after last night will be shot.

Telegraphic communication between England and Brussels was entirely interrupted today and no dispatches were accepted for any place in the Belgian province of Limberg, Liege, Namur, Luxemburg, Brabant or Antwerp, except the city of Antwerp.

"The most formidable shock in history" will occur on Belgian soil, according to British military experts, when the great armies of Germans and Austrians on the one side and the allied troops of France, Belgium and England on the other, come into contact. No definite information as to where the decisive encounter will occur is permitted to pass the censor but the general staff of the Franch army declares itself confident of fighting under the best auspices for its forces.

Not a shot was fired by the Belgians when entry into Brussels was made yesterday by an advance guard of German cavalry. This advance guard, it was reported, was to be followed by a strong column of German troops encamped in the vicinity. After the departure of the Belgian troops from the capital communication was cut off between that city and other parts of Belgium and abroad. The temporary capital of the country Antwerp whither the Belgians have retired is understood to be strongly fortified and military correspondents declare preparations for its defense extends over an enormous area, while it has been provisioned for a long siege.

British and French warships bombarded and greatly damaged Catarro, an Austrian seaport, Wednesday.

Libau, the Russian Baltic seaport, was badly damaged during its two hours bombardment by a German fleet according to the captain of a Swedish steamer. The inhabitants were panic-stricken.

German warships are reported to have destroyed the harbor works at Hango, Finland.

Japan is making active preparations in view of the approaching expiration on Sunday of the time limit of her ultimatum to Germany. It is expected she will at once move on Kiau Chau, the German protectorate in China.

A final call to arms affecting all able-bodied men from twenty to forty-two years old has been issued by the Austrian government.

An Anglo-American Rough Riders corps has been formed in Paris and its services have been accepted by the French ministry of war.

GERMAN TROOPS CONCENTRATING INVADING FORCES IN BELGIUM

By Associated Press.

Paris, Aug. 21 2:55 p. m.—Official news made public in Paris today says that the German forces continue to pass the Meuse in the vicinity of Huy and that an important concentration is being carried out in Belgium this (Friday) morning. No French territory is occupied by the enemy except a piece of enclosed land at Audun-Le-Ronan in the department of Muerthe-et-Moselle.

FINAL CALL TO ARMS ISSUED BY GOVERNMENT OF AUSTRIA

By Associated Press.

London, Aug. 21.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company sent from Vienna under yesterday's date says that the Austrian government has issued a final call to arms for all able bodied men from the ages of twenty to forty-two years.

COMMUNICATION WITH BELGIAN CITIES IS CUT BY GERMANS

By Associated Press.

Antwerp, via Paris, Aug. 21.—An official statement says the situation is unchanged. German cavalry patrols are circling around Brussels severing communication between the capital and Antwerp and between these cities and the central part of the country.

The encampment will last until August 26. In addition to the advantage of field work with the regulars, there will be additional instruction for militia officers by line officers of the army.

The Dallas Battery went into camp at Leon Springs when the infantry went to Texas City. The Federal government has allowed this battery 300 rounds of 3-inch ammunition said to be the largest allotment ever made for a similar organization.

CITY COUNCIL GIVES CONTRACTOR THIRTY DAYS IN WHICH TO COMPLY.

MAY ASK FORFEITURE OF BOND

Held That Contract Has Not Been Complied With—Council Acts on Other Matters.

The city council passed an order last night directing that R. D. Mosley and Company be given thirty days in which to start the repair of the Tenth Street paving from Scott to Broad street and a reasonable time for the completion of such repairs and in the event of their failure to comply with the order the city attorney was instructed to begin proceedings under the original contract on the maintenance bond either to compel the performance of the contract or for the forfeiture of the bond.

Members of council expressed the belief that the contracting company had not complied with the original contract and City Attorney Horace Nutt expressed the opinion that action might properly be taken against the company's maintenance bond.

The council meeting last night was a short one and only a few matters were acted upon.

A request from the Labor Day celebration committee for the use of the streets for the parade was granted. The usual bills were allowed and several other matters of minor importance were acted upon.

TEXAS FURNITURE FIRMS TO FORM BUYING SYNDICATE

Meeting is Being Held Today at Dallas to Organize Co-Operative Association.

M. A. Brin of the Brin-Dolman Furniture Co. received a telegram last night calling him to Dallas where a meeting of Texas Retail Furniture men is to be held today for the organization of a buying syndicate. Mr. Brin is one of the promoters of this syndicate.

The plan is for the organization of an association comprised of one furniture firm from each important city in the state. The association will employ buyers who will negotiate directly with the factories for the purchase of furniture in large lots thus securing the lowest prices possible. These purchases will be divided into carload lots and distributed among the purchasers.

For instance, the syndicate might buy a train load of brass beds from a factory if the price was made attractive enough. This would then be split into carload shipments giving the individual firms the advantage of the collective buying power.

Merchants at Dallas, Fort Worth, Waco, San Antonio, Austin, Temple, Houston, Galveston, Abilene, Paris and other of the larger cities of the state having become interested in the plan.

WISHED SHE COULD DIE

And Be Free From Her Troubles, but Found Better Way.

Columbia, Tenn.—"Many a night," says Mrs. Josie Sharp, of this place, "I wished I would die and be relieved of my suffering from womanly troubles. I could not get up, without pulling in something to help me, and stayed in bed most of the time. I could not do my housework.

The least amount of work tired me out. My head would swim, and I would tremble for an hour or more. Finally I took Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I am not troubled with pain any more and I don't have to go to bed. In fact, I am healed and WILL do all my housework."

Cardui goes to all the weak spots and helps to make them strong. It acts with nature—not against her. It is for the tired, nervous, irritable women, who feel as if everything were wrong, and need something to quiet their nerves and strengthen the worn-out system.

If you are a woman, suffering from any of the numerous symptoms of womanly trouble, take Cardui. It will help you. At all druggists.

TWO OF THE MASKERS

By ARTHUR BOLTONWOOD.

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

A truly awe-inspiring footman in livery led Craymore down the stairs, whispered to another footman standing by the heavy portiers, and withdrew noiselessly. This second footman held aside the old tapestry, which had undoubtedly worn thin the fingers of cloistered nuns centuries ago, and announced: "Mr. Robert Willington Craymore," in a loud, clear voice, to which no one seemed to pay the least attention, and stood aside for Craymore to enter.

Craymore found himself in a room filled with men in somber evening clothes and the most gorgeously gowned women he had ever seen.

A stout little bald-headed man near the door, who could not have helped hearing the announcement of his name, said: "Hello, Craymore, old chap," as Craymore passed him, and a pretty young woman just beyond nodded to him brightly.

He found himself at last before a dull, bored-looking man, who stooped down and whispered, even as he clasped Craymore's hand: "I never could remember names!"

"Craymore," the young man replied with that engaging smile he knew so well how to use.

"Of course, of course," said the bored man rather apologetically. "Ought to remember 'em better, but can't seem to get the hang of doing it. My dear," he turned to the stout, voluble woman beside him, "here is Craymore."

Thus he washed his hands of Craymore and went on looking drearily bored.

"Oh, Mr. Craymore, so good of you to come. Where have you been hiding yourself, naughty boy? Are you in seclusion trying for holy orders? One would think so from all we see of you these days. Oh, Alice, I want you to know Mr. Craymore. Craymore, Miss Leyden. You lucky girl! No one tangoes quite like Mr. Craymore. Run along, now, and prove to her how truthful I am. And don't forget—a dance with me at 11!"

Thus did she dismiss Craymore and continue being voluble. It was really easier than Craymore had supposed.

He tangoed in the big, glaring gold and white ballroom with Alice Leyden, and when a man came to claim her at the end of the dance he was told how divinely he danced, and passed on to a Miss Greig, who chattered while she danced.

At the end of that dance, Miss Greig being promptly claimed, he found himself quite free. He found a sort of conservatory just off the ballroom, with little orange trees in bloom and a tiny fountain plashing musically into a big pool of Japanese goldfish.

He sat down to adjust things. He had done the thing and it was ridiculously easy. It almost spoiled it all to think there had been no more call to use his wits.

Then his thought were interrupted by a girl's rippling laughter. He liked the sound of that voice even before he saw the girl herself. And he liked the girl when she came into view, even better. There were two swains in attendance with her.

She looked quickly at Craymore sitting by one of the little blossoming orange trees, half nodded, and laughingly dismissed her two knights. Craymore jumped to his feet.

"You are not having a good time," said the girl, quite unexpectedly.

"Why, how on earth do you know that?" he asked.

"Your face tells it plainly," said she. "You are moping alone over something. Cheer up. I'm not, either."

Five dances she sat out with him in the little room of the goldfish and blossoming orange trees. Craymore had prided himself that he was not particularly susceptible to women, but this girl was like no other he had ever seen or known. That was what he had come here to find out—if these girls one met here were so wonderfully different.

"This time it's to say good-night, or good-morning," she said. "I wish," and there was a little wistful note in her voice, "it didn't have to be good-by. Of course, you'll never see me again."

So she had seen through him all the time!

"I wish it didn't have to be good-by, too," said he. "But, since you've seen through me I may as well save my face as best I can. It was ridiculously easy. Far easier than I thought it would be, indeed."

"What do you mean?" she asked, puzzled.

"Even these clothes I have on are hired for the occasion," said he. "I simply drove up in state in hired clothes in a hired car and gave my name brazenly and in rather bored fashion—"

"Then you haven't any right here?"

"I thought you had seen that."

"Why, no," said she. "Why, no," she repeated. "I said it would have to be good-by, because I thought you were one of these people—and speaking of hired things—this gown is hired and so was the car I came in, and, oh, dear!"

She fell to laughing immoderately.

"Who are you?" she demanded at length.

"My name is Craymore. I'm a lawyer—without clients as yet, but I have hopes."

"And I am Miss Dunlap, a china buyer in a downtown department store."

OIL MAN'S VIEWS ON BUSINESS OUTLOOK

SEES PROSPERITY AHEAD, PARTICULARLY IN WICHITA FALLS SECTION.

RESUMPTION OF OIL ACTIVITY

Believes Shortage Is Near That Will Cause Many Rigs to Be Started Aagain.

Prosperity for the United States and for Wichita county in particular is foreseen by a well known Wichita Falls oil man whose statement was put into written form and submitted to the Times this morning It follows

Cash wheat has advanced five cents per bushel making the price eighty cents f o b loading stations with good prospects for further advance Export shipments are being made freely from Galveston and other ports,

The cotton in Wichita county is holding good alte the fine rains we have had and we have prospects for a bumper crop that will add hundred of thousands of dollars to the pockets of the farmers of Wichita county

Predicts Oil Shortage

great many drilling rigs have been shut down in Wichita county due to the act that a large field was discovered at Cushing, Okla and at the completion of 1"8 wells the production of this field had increase to over 150 000 barrels per day This large production was a menace to the oil industry and caused a break in the market of thirty cents per barrel, and shut down practically all the drilling in Pennsylvania Illinois West Virginia Louisiana and Oklahoma, and North Texas with the exception of the Cushing field On the 17th of this month there were 248 wells completed in the Cushing field and the production had not increased; therefore it is a safe prophecy to make that within six months from this time the pipe lines will be shipping more oil than is being produced The reason for this will be easily seen if you consider the fact that hundreds of rigs have stopped drilling in the United States The oil production is dropping off daily and as it takes time to organize the oil men and get them to drilling, as stated above it will only be a question of months until there will be a shortage of oil

The Export Situation.

With plenty of money in the United States there will be no reason why general business conditions will not be good or better than they have been in the last ten years. It is true that our commerce is temporarily crippled, but under the wonderful leadership of President Wilson this will soon be adjusted. This country will have to supply the Orient as well as Central and South America with manufactured goods and China alone has over 400 000,000 of people

With plenty of money and lots of goods to sell and with the whole world clamoring for our manufactured goods and food supplies, it does not take a wise man to see that we will have good business in this country for the next twelve months W W S

DISARMAMENT,

"Put up the sword!" The voice of Christ once more
Speaks in the pauses of the cannon's roar
O'er fields of corn by fiery sickles reaped
And left dry ashes over trenches heaped
With nameless dead, o'er cities starving slow
Under a rain of fire, through wards of woe
Down which a groaning diapason runs
From tortured brothers, husbands lovers, sons
Of desolate women in their far-off homes,
Waiting to hear the step that never comes!
O men and brothers! let that voice be heard,
Warriors, try peace, put up the useless sword!
'Tis not the end There is a story told
In Eastern tents when autumn nights grow cold,
And round the fire the Mongol shepherds sit
With grave responses listening unto it
Once on this errands of his mercy bent,
Buddha, the holy and benevolent,
Met a fell monster huge and fierce of look,
Whose awful voice the hills and forests shook
O son of peace the giant cried thy fate
Is sealed at last, and love shall yield to hate"
The unarmed Buddha looming, with no trace
Of fear or anger in the monster's face
In pity said "Poor friend, even thee I love
And as he spake the skyward terror sank
To hand breath meek, the huge abhorrence shrank
Into the form and fashion of a dove,
Yet where the thunder of its rage was heard,
Circling above him sweetly sang the bird
Hate hath no harm for love!" so ran the song,
And peace unweaponed conquered every wrong

WICHITA'S GREATEST STORE IN ALL WAYS A STORE FOR ALL.

What Dame Fashion Decrees For Early Fall Wear Is Here In All Her Newest Creations

"Such beautiful styles", and "so reasonable." Yes these are two of the many very complimentary remarks we hear almost every hour of the day, and please don't mistake us when we say We are here to please. It was the aim and intention and has been the policy of this store to please everyone, and to handle only such standard lines of merchandise as are always found in the very best stores throughout the land. This rule has been carried out in its entirety in the selection of our fall line, as a visit will convince you.

Ladies' Suits, Coats, Dresses and Skirts

There are many changes in practically all of the new fall styles and as many of you have viewed them on the pages of your favorite magazines, You are doubtless very anxious to see these new ones; in all of their Movel beauty We very cordially invite you to visit our Big Store and see in reality these new and very attractive models

DRESS GOODS, SILKS AND VELVETS AND ALL THE NEW DRESS TRIMMINGS ARE HERE IN ABUNDANCE. OUR DRESS MAKER, Miss Burnett has just returned from the East where she has been studying the newest styles, and remember we place our absolute guarantee on every garment Miss Burnett accepts to make Her past seasons work, however, is sufficient. Miss Burnett will be glad to talk dress making with you.

A Word About Millinery

While we admit the new fall fall styles offer an odd contrast, even to themselves and yet you cannot recall a season where in styles had such a variance, and you may find it rather difficult to make your selection between the very small close fitting black and white, silk and satin patterns, and the equally becoming very large and graceful sailors They are both good and our showing of either gives you plenty to select from.

New Party Boxes

We have just received our first showing of these in all the latest shapes and colors See them in our Art department

Ex President Roosevelt has said that President Wilson's foreign policy was a disgrace but not many loyal Americans have thus far approved of that criticism Wilson refused to recognize the Huerta government in Mexico because the Huerta government was founded on assassination and the head of the government an assassin To have recognized him and his government would have been to approve of the assassination of President Madero Had Wilson done this then his foreign policy would have been a disgrace to all true liberty loving people, such as are Americans And furthermore if President Wilson's foreign policy as applied to conditions in Mexico, was a disgrace, then those who denounce his policy must necessarily approve the course Huerta took in gaining control of the government of Mexico—that of first killing and then having Madero assassinated That Wilson's policy was the right one is proven by the fact that other powers approved it and has worked out satisfactorily Had Roosevelt been our President instead of Wilson, the chances are that American soldiers would be fighting in Mexico today

The next legislature which will be the Thirty Fourth, will be asked to appropriate the sum of $100,000 per year to aid in the establishing of departments of domestic science, agriculture and manual training, in our public schools At least, one of our state officials is responsible for the statement and if a bill should be introduced to that effect it should receive the hearty endorsement of every member of the legislature All the schooling that nine tenths of our boys and girls receive is obtained during the scholastic age and in our public schools and for this reason our state can afford to make as perfect as possible the public school system As a rule, those who attain higher education are the children of parents who are able to pay the expense By this it must not be understood that this paper is opposed to building up the State University and the A and M College Both are great institutions, but if there is not money enough to support both our public school system and the State University in the way they should be supported and if either is to be neglected, it is better, far better that the public schools should have first atention If that is done, it will come nearer placing the boy or girl whose parents are not over burdened with wealth on a more equal footing with the more fortunate in obtaining a start in life so far as a common school education is concerned Or to make it plainer, the Times is rather of the opinion that the state should be more liberal with the school children while they are within the scholastic age than she should be after they have grown to be young men and young ladies Therefore the public schools of the state whether located in rural districts or in towns and villages, should be treated liberally in the matter of providing better educational facilities

One Man —9000 Horsepower

How the Largest Exclusive Tire Factory Keeps Cost Down and Keeps Quality Up

Firestone TIRES

Cost No More Than Average

Every facility for economical production that science has been able to produce has been brought to bear in the Firestone plant to give you Firestone quality at ordinary price. The power plant, where one man feeds the boilers that produce 9000 horsepower, is one example of Firestone scientific management.

The great Firestone plant naturally attracts the country's greatest tire experts. Every man in this factory is a tire specialist, doing his work with skill and accuracy.

Here nothing but tires is made, and every ounce of steam power, every effort of the workmen, every bit of study and thought, are focused on the making of Firestone Tires. This concentration and specialization in production make it possible to give highest quality at a cost no greater than only average tires.

The war news being sent to American newspapers from Europe is not very unsatisfying In fact, it is so one sided as to cause it to be almost worthless This is due to the fact that both England and France have put the ban on the war correspondents and none will be permitted to accompany the troops on a battle field All that the American newspapers are now getting in the way of war news is the official dispatches, and they are almost worthless Just why our war correspondents are not allowed to report the battles as they are actually fought is probably from the fact that those who have it in their power to control the telegraph and cable lines are getting the worst of the deal.

Governor Colquitt is of the opinion that the extra session of the Legislature will last but about ten days That is long enough, considering that only one matter of importance is to be acted upon but our guess is that our law makers are going to string it out for a longer period than that

Market Reports

By Associated Press.

Chicago, August 21.—Wheat opened unchanged today, advanced 1 5-8 to 2 cents and then dropped back one cent. The fluctations were due apparently to sentiment rather than to any news and the volume of trade was small. Liverpool was lower and a private estimate made the Canadian crop 45,000,000 under last year. Corn opened unchanged to 1-4 down and on a fair trade prices early advanced from 3-4 to 5-8 over yesteray's close. Trade in oats was light. Prices opened unchanged and advanced 3-8 to 1-2. Receipts were lighter than had been expected. Strength of northwestern markets and revival of export talk later strengthened the wheat market. Close was strong; corn closed sympathetically strong. Prices: Wheat—Sept. 96 3-4; Dec. 101 1-2; May 107 7-8. Corn—Sept. 79 3-8; Dec. 70 1-8. Oats—Sept. 44 3-8; Dec. 46 7-8.

FORCEFUL SERMON AT BAPTIST MEETING

LARGE CROWD IS PRESENT THURSDAY NIGHT TO HEAR EVANGELIST.

TO HOLD MASS MEETING SUNDAY

Will Speak on "Four Great Social Evils"—Talks on Two Separate Roads to Heaven.

An exceptionally large crowd attended the Baptist revival Thursday night, and heard Dr. T. T. Martin deliver his fourth sermon. Residence prayer meetings were arranged for at seven homes throughout the city, this feature of the meeting evidently meeting with approval. Pastor R. C. Miller made a strong plea that these prayer meetings be held Saturday afternoon, too, thus inducing the congregation to worship on Saturday.

Evangelist Martin announced that Saturday night his subject would be: "Hell as Taught by Reason, Infidelity as Represented by Robert Ingersoll and by the Bible, Showing that They Agree." Further he announced that on Sunday afternoon at 3:30 there would be a great mass meeting and the subject for discussion would be: "The Four Great Social Evils." Next Monday the gospel singer, S. L. Raborn will arrive and take charge of the music. Tuesday, Evangelist W. D. Hubbard, the noted Alabaman will arrive and continue the meetings.

During the earlier part of his sermon last night, the speaker touched upon an interesting phase of psychology, citing the instance of A. T. Hawthorne, one of the most brilliant preachers in Texas, who, after several years of brilliant work, admitted that he had never been saved that he was still a sinner. The case of John Wesley was cited and it, too, was almost identical with that of Evangelist Hawthorne.

Two Roads to Heaven.

For his text, the evangelist read first, Cor. 3:11 to 15, showing that there are two separate roads to heaven. First, stated the pastor, comes the man who obeys the ten commandments—he needs no Christ, for the Scripture says that he who obeys the laws lives in them. Second, he said, is the man who doesn't obey them—and Jesus gave His life that he who accepts the word of God may be redeemed from the curse of disobedience. The pastor went on to illustrate, saying that when any one accepts the teachings of Christ he stepped out from under the laws and the ten commandments no longer apply to him.

"If one who has been redeemed deliberately and willfully sins against God, God's wrath will fall on him," he said, but he further explained, any one who has received the blessings of the Almighty will go to heaven. The evangelist had considerable to say about there being different grades to heaven and hell as there are different classes to railroad tickets. He said that the saved man who willfully sinned against God would not go to as good a Paradise as the man who obeyed Him; and that an innocent young person who had committed only one or two sins would not be sent to the same hell as a murdering fiend.

In speaking of the age one must be before being adjudged guilty of sinning against this almighty, the evangelist stated that any individual who was old enough to know it was wrong to steal was guilty of that sin—if he stole; but Rev. Martin doesn't believe that such a person will be punished in hell by the side of some incorrigible fiend who has several murders to his credit.

Discusses Modern Habits.

While on the subject of gambling, the speaker declared that any woman who would sit down and deliberately watch any one play for a prize over a table in her home ought to drop dead—that the world would be considerably better off if she did. During the course of his remarks along these lines he also stated that any church member who darkened the door of a saloon would benefit the world a lot if he would drop dead right on the spot. He had considerable adverse criticism for dancing, too, saying that any woman who would watch her daughter dance in the arms of a young man didn't deserve the name of woman; and any young man who would be found guilty of such an offense deserved to contract immediate heart failure. He dwelt only briefly with these subjects, using his remarks as a kind of preface to further ones along these lines next Sunday at the mass meeting. He said that most of his sermon was a preparation for ones to follow.

In discussing the Bible, the speaker declared that there was not one contradiction in it—and he challeged any member of the congregation to show pointed and apparent contradictions that appear in the Scripture has been explained. The only way contradictions can be found, he said, was to be unfamiliar with the work as a whole, and pick up the book and turn idly through the pages reading a paragraph here and a sentence there. He said that the average person who found them in the Bible were unable to discover the book of Ezekiel without fifteen minutes' hunt. This part of his sermon was preparatory to a full sermon which will fololw.

Rich Men and Heaven.

The speaker made an exception of one sentence in the Bible: "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lost his own soul?" The pastor explained that it was in the scripture but was not scripture. And said that merely because a man was rich did not bar him from the gates of Heaven—if he had been saved. The Evangelist believed that a man who would struggle to gain the whole world at the cost of his chances of greater riches in Heaven was showing very poor business sense. He went on to say that such a poor business man was likely to lose out in both places. This was the concluding point of his sermon. No response was asked since this sermon was largely preparatory for what will follow later and deal fully with the subject discussed in this sermon.

THE VICTORIA.

"Love Versus Bullets," a rip roaring Keystone comedy provides today's laughts. Lillian Gish is featured in a two-reel Majestic, "The Angel of Contention." Nettie is beloved by the boys in the mining camp, Magoon, a big jovial miner, loves her most of all, however and asks her to be his wife. Nettie is in love with Colter, a young easterner, and though it pains her to do so, tells Magoon of the fact. Magoon leaves town to become sheriff of an adjoining county. A murder is committed in the camp and Colter is unjustly accused. Colter has in the meantime married Nettie. When the posse comes after him, accused of the murder, Nettie rides to the office of Sheriff Magoon, and the sheriff, with admirable self sacrifice, points out what Nettie has done for the boys of the camp, and persuades them to let Colter go.

THE MAJESTIC.

"A Million Bid," a five reel Vitagraph Bradway Star feature is to be shown at the Majestic Theatre Friday, August 21st. The Moving Picture World the original cast that the interpretation is almost beyond criticism. The story opens logically with a delightful piece of characterization, that of a selfish wife and a mother, whose sole idea of existence is to make an impression by display. Julia Swayne Gordon fills this role and her impersonation is masterly. She loses no opportunity to exhibit the cunning vanity of her sex. She drives her husband to despair and death by her self-regarding policy, then wrecks the life of her daughter by delivering her into the hands of a millionaire husband for the sole purpose of keeping up appearances. The acting in this photo drama is of high order throughout. The cast is composed of Anita Stewart, Julia Swayne Gordon, Charles Kent, Harry Morey, E. K. Lincoln, Gladen James George Stevens, Donald Hall, Kate Price. The daughter, well interpreted by Anita Stewart, is already in love but her mother's influence is so powerful that she marries a millionaire and sets sail with him on his yacht. Her mother and a number of guests accompany the bride and groom on this peculiar honeymoon. The yacht is wrecked; the millionaire is struck by a falling chandelier; the bride fails in her attempt to save her husband, who is left for dead. Nearly all the others escape, and are aboard a passing steamer, the mother excepted—she is drowned in attempting to save her jewels. The daughter returns to America, marries the man of her choice, bears him children, and is living happily with her second husband, now an eminent brain specialist when the first one reappears, in an altered personality, as a patient. He survived the wreck but the blow on the head and high emotional shock, resulted in an alteration of personality, with no remembrance of his past life. A powerful situation is set up when the happy wife recognizes in this patient whose restoration to original personality will affect the legitimacy of her children and her own happiness. The satisfactory conclusion is entirely logical and forms an effective climax. The wreck scenes, especially those showing the interior of the sinking yacht, are among the best ever exhibited on the screen. The direction of this play, that of Ralph Ince, is more than adequate—it is forceful. The en-

LOCAL CAMP OF M. W. A. HOLDS PLEASANT SESSION

Wichita Falls Camp No. 12906 Modern Woodmen of America held an interesting meeting last night in the Odd Fellows hall. This was the regular meeting night and a special program had been arranged. A large crowd of members of the Electra camp were present, on invitation, having come down from Electra in automobiles. The Gow Wow, which had been advertised for the past week, made its appearance, and gave a splendid exhibition. One candidate reported for adoption and was safely piloted into the mysteries of woodcraft. The degree staff exemplified the ritualistic work in full, assisted by an illustrated lecture on woodcraft by District Deputy C. B. McConnell. The meeting was the largest and most interesting one of the season, and all present had a good time. Cigars and ice cream were served. Refreshments will be served next meeting night.
